Town Meeting.

A meeting of the citizens of Anderson is called for Monday night at half-past seven o'clock, to take place in the Court House, to consider matters of the greatest importance to the welfare of our town. All are earnestly invited and urged to attend.

The Vote of Anderson County.

The official returns elsewhere given show a largely increased vote in this County, both white and colored, as follows: Whites, 2525; colored, 1858. Total, 4383. This is the largest vote ever polled in Anderson County by either race. In 1870, the vote was 2073 whites and 1414 colored, making a total of 3487. In 1872, the vote was 1866 whites and 1367 colored, giving a total of 3233, which is exactly 1150 less than at the recent election.

A Democratic Congress.

It is now ascertained that the Democratic majority in the next House of Representatives will be seventy-seven, with seventeen members yet to be elected from Connecticut, New Hampshire, California and Mississippi, which will further increase the majority. The Radical to eight, and possibly to six. A pretty good showing for the dead Democracy, and a promising sign for 1876.

Democratic Victories.

on the 3rd of November, in nearly every portion of the United States, has surprised the entire country. Some were cautiously predicting increased success for the Democracy, and the more astute members of the opposition rupt measures and excessive taxation will meet were prepared for Democratic gains, but the most sanguine Democrat in the land was not This is an immense gain in the aggregate reprepared for the overwhelming victory and complete revolution in public sentiment which the result discloses. The enemy are routed "horse, foot and dragons," and as the smoke of the battle-field clears away, there is revealed a terrible panic in his flight from the victorious

What has produced this mighty revolution in politics? Not the enunciation of any new dogmas, nor the declaration of any change of policy on the part of the Democrats. True to its principles and maintaining its ancient faith, the organization of the Democratic party has been kept together under defeat, disaster and repeated calamities, and it now becomes the medlum through which the American people have placed the seal of condemnation upon Republican arrogance and insolence. The masses were discontented and dissatisfied, and were resolved upon a change of rulers. The Republican party had demonstrated an unwillingness or inability to restore peace, tranquility and prosperity to the nation, especially in its management of the Southern States, where the grossest abuses of republican government were perpetrated, and the instruments of these flagrant outrages upon liberty and local selfgovernment were upheld by the Federal administration, represented by a Republican President and a Republican Congress. After repeated warnings against the continuance of this state of affairs, the Republican party has been thoroughly tried and found wanting. The leaders of that party assumed to hold an unlimited lease of their power, and did not dream that a change would come in the next ten years. Hence, they disregarded every manifestation of public opionion, and endeavored to magnify their own importance to the country until it was necessary to administer a stern and unyielding rebuke, in order to preserve the essence of liberty and maintain the government of our forefathers.

A third term for President Grant was regarded as menacing and distasteful, not in consonance with the genius and spirit of our institutions. Further disquietude in the South and my nativity. Though the accusation is withactive interference with its affairs was looked out semblance of truth, I feel deeply pained upon as destructive to the business interests thereby; for I not only did not oppose the and material necessities of the country. The Result.

The decision at the ballot-box on the 3rd of November elects Mr. Chamberlain as the Governor of South Carolina for the next two years. He goes into office under peculiar circumstances, with the majority in favor of his party greatly reduced. A stronger and more compact opposition will confront him in the Legislature, and the lessons taught by the campaign cannot fail to impress him with the danger to which his administration will be subjected, in case the ignominious failures of the past six years do not prove a warning against further abuse of the public trusts. The general dissatisfaction with his Republican predecessors stands before his gaze, and he must know that similar practices and derelictions of duty will only increase the defections among the rank and file of his own party. The recent opponents to his election are not likely to forego the vantage ground, and their numbers will be legion unless better government in the interest of all classes, without distinction or favoritism, will be guaranteed during the term of his administration. The tax-paying and propertyholding citizens of South Carolina are sincere and earnest in their demand for justice at the hands of their rulers, and they will not be satisfied with pretended measures of reform, This sentiment is shared by the great body of the American people, who are tired and sick of the disgraceful record made by the Republican party in this State.

During the campaign, it was Mr. Chamberlain's boast that he would appoint no man to office, unless three requisites were made apparent: First, is he a Republican; second, is he honest; and third, is he competent? The pledge of party fealty was made most prominet, and seemed to inspire the highest respect made, and we believe that a reversal of the propositions would greatly tend to insure the one thing needful in this State, by placing competency and honesty above Republicanism in the selection of public officials on his part. Only in this way can the administration of Mr. Chamberlain furnish substantial evidence that he intends to become the Governor of the whole people, and break down the miserable cliques heretofore controlling official power and patronage. The conservative masses have much to encourage them in the recent election, although defeated in the general result. By a combination with Independent Republicans, after a brief campaign not wholly satisfactory in many respects, the tremendous majority relied upon by the opposition has been greatly reduced, and the political balance made nearer even, so that the future will bring less arrogance and boastfulness of superior numbers, which always intimidates and begets distrust of our ability to gain the victory. We are cognizant of the fact that divisions can be made in their is Democratic. Felton, in the seventh District, ranks, and that the colored people are not en. tirely unwilling to join hands with their white neighbors in securing honest and competent rulers. A large number of colored voters scattered throughout the State emphasized this fact at the polls, and we should not be loth to reajority in the Senate will certainly be reduced | cognize and applaud their conduct, simply because defeat ensued.

The increased conservative element in the Legislature is another cause for congratulation, where there, is a delegation of Independents The signal triumph of the Democratic party and Conservatives, headed by Hon. Geo. A. Trenholm, which defeated a shabby set of corruptionists and selfish politicians. We believe that more active, vigilant and effective opposition will ensue, which gives promise that corwith successful resistance whenever attempted. sult, and is the prime source of encouragement for the future, which will be shared by honest men of all parties as an omen that the skies are brightening in South Carolina, so long oppressed and pillaged under the guise of Repub- elected by less than 3,000 majority, against

The Fence Law Defeated. The question submitted to the voters of Anderson County, known as the fence law, has been defeated by a heavy majority. The returns show that 602 voted in favor and 1388 against, being a majority of 786 opposed to the measure. It was difficult to asce tain the intentions of many voters, as the ballots were variously written and many of them perplexing to the managers. Besides, a general expression of opinion has not been secured, since more than one-half the voters failed to put themselves upon record on this important matter. Under these circumstances, the friends of the proposed law are suggesting the propriety of holding a special election to decide the question, which can be thoroughly canvassed before the people apart from other issues, and a better understanding of its merits be secured. As the Act under which the question has been submitted does not allow this discretion to the County Commissioners, additional legislation be ordered by them. To obtain the legislation and make a satisfactory canvass before the people will require several months, and we would advise all interested to base their calculations for the coming year under the present system ents, 50.

A Summary of the November Elections.

Twenty-four States elected Governors, Con. gressmen, members of the Legislature and other minor officers last week. We append a brief summary of the result, according to the returns already received:

ALABAMA.-The Democratic State ticket was elected by not less than 12,000 majority. Hon. George S. Houston is the Governor elect. The Democrats have a majority of 29 on joint ballot in the Legislature. Six out of the eight Congressmen are Democrats.

ARKANSAS.—A full Democratic delegation

Congress has been elected. The State officers vere chosen in October. DELAWARE.-The State and Congressional icket was carried by the Democrats. FLORIDA.-The Republicans elected both members of Congress, but the Democrats have a majority of 20 in the Legislature. GEORGIA.—The entire delegation to Congress was elected over the regular nominee. ILLINOIS .- The Republican State ticket was elected by a decreased majority. The Independents and Democrats have a clear majority on joint ballot in the Legislature. The Democrats have gained six or seven Congressmen, and have a majority in the delegation.

KANSAS.-The Republican State ticket had a majority of 5,000, against 32,000 two years ago. The Democrats elect one and the Republicans elect two members of Congress.

KENTUCKY .- The entire delegation to Conress was elected by the Democrats, including especially the triumph in Charleston County, J. Proctor Knott, the witty and accomplished

MARYLAND .- The Democrats send a full delegation to Congress. MASSACHUSETTS.-Hon. William Gaston, Democrat, has been elected Governor by 7,000 majority. Three Democrats, one Independent, and seven Republicans are elected to Congress. Gen. B. F. Butler was defeated by a Democrat in the Sixth District, and Hon. N. P. Banks was elected as an Independent Republican from the Fifth District.

MICHIGAN.-The Democrats have a large epresentation in the Legislature, and a prob ble majority on joint ballot. Three Demoerats and six Republicans elected to Congress. The Republican candidate for Governor is 60,000 two years ago.

MINNESOTA.—The Republicans elect the eutire delegation (3) to Congress.

MISSOURI.-The Democratic majority will reach from 40,000 to 60,000 on the State ticket, and a full delegation to Congress, thirteen members, complete the overwhelming victory. NEVADA.—Bradley (Dem.) re-elected Gov-ernor, and Ellis (Dem.) elected to Congress.

NEW JERSEY .- The Democrats have elected the Governor by 12,000 majority, and will have a majority of eleven on joint ballot in the Legislature. Four Democrats and three Republicans sent to Congress.

NEW YORK .- Tilden (Dem.) elected Governor by upwards of 40,000. Delegation to Congress about equally divided, making a gain of nine Democratic members. The Democrats have a majority on joint ballot in the State Legislature. PENNSYLVANIA.-The contest was exceedngly close on the State ticket, but the Repubicans carried the State by a very small majorty. Democrats have one majority on joint ballot in the Legislature. Sixteen Democrats and eleven Republicans elected to Congress.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Chamberlain elected Governor by ten or twelve thousand majority. E. W. M. Mackey (Ind. Rep.) has been elected to Congress in the Second District. Wallace, will be required before another election can Hoge, Rainey and Smalls (Reg. Republicans) make up the delegation to Congress. The Legislature will probably stand as follows: Senate-Republicans, 17; Conservatives and Independents, 15. House of Representatives-Republicans, 74; Conservatives and Independ-

> TENNESSEE .- The Democratic majority for Governor is between 40,000 and 50,000. Not more than ten Republicans elected to the Legislature, and only one member to Congress is a Republican.

> TEXAS .- Six members to Congress, the entire delegation, elected by the Democrats. Hon. John H. Reagan, Postmaster General of the Confederate States, was elected from the First VIRGINIA .- The Democrats elect eight memthe Third District.

WISCONSIN .- Six Republicans and two Demperats elected to Congress. The Republicans have a majority of 25 on joint ballot in the Legislature, which will insure the re-election of Senator Carpenter.

What will Gov. Chamberlain say now is to his numerical majority having exclusive control of the administration of affairs in this State, with his majority of only 10,000 and nearly one-half the Legislature belonging to the opposition? Upon his own bad theory, there must be a divide. Although Democratic in the past, the people of South Carolina have acted with good sense in this contest, believing that upon the great questions presented, new and Judge Hoge is lucky. The deceased was a highly respected citizen. His remains were interred with all the honors of the Grange Order in the Cemetery at Sandy Springs on Friday last.

An election of officers for the ensuing quarter was held by the Polytechnic Society last week, which resulted in the choice of the following: President, Dr. W. G. Browne; Vice President, Henry Frierson; Secretary and Treasurer, H. G. Scudday. This Society, owing to an increase in the number of its members, is now in a most prosperous condition, and the liveliest interest is manifested in its meetings

SERENADE.

The result of the recent election for County Officers being declared on Friday evening last, a number of colored citizens made the town lively for a time with a torchlight procession, after which they proceeded to the residence of the Senator elect, Col. John R. Cochran, where they were joined by a number of white citizens, accompanied by the "Old Brass Band." Here the Band played some lively and stirring airs, and after repeated calls Col. Cochran made his appearance, and thanked both white and colored for their due appreciation of him, and their strong and cordial support in the election. He ended by inviting all present to enter and enjoy his hospitalities, which they all did to a large extent. The greater portion of the crowd together with the Band then went to the residence of Maj. W. W. Humprheys, the Probate Judge elect, where they were well received and appropriately thanked. Leaving this place they soon arrived at Capt. T. P. Benson's, where like hospitalities awaited them. and after remaining there some time, it being then in the small hours of the night, they wended their way homeward well pleased with the whole affair. This was truly one of the liveliest, quietest and most enjoyed serenades of the season.

LITERARY ADDRESS.

On Tuesday evening last, despite the inclemency of the weather, quite a number of ladies and gentlemen assembled in the Court House for the purpose of listening to the address of Col. E. M. Rucker. After being introduced by Mr. D. S. Taylor, he arose and stated his subject, "Mental Culture," and continued for nearly an hour in the most impressive style to discuss the merits of the subject, showing from the first how the infant is entirely under the control of nature, his mind having no power of development until age and culture brings it forth, and causes it to expand in all its glory and beauty; how, after the infant has grown up to manhood without receiving the benefits of mental culture, his mind is dull and inactire concerning the beauties and glories of Art, Science and Literature; while, on the other hand, the man of the trained and cultured mind is always liberal in his views, and is constantly deriving pleasure from his surroundings; how in our day sensation is our idol, and variety our criterion of beauty, while the mind is the only part of our nature which is truly beautiful; how to-day we look back with wonder and astonishment upon the master minds of antiquity, whose cultivated genius called forth those splendid creations of Art that the traveler beholds in Athens and Rome; how to-day we owe to classic Athens the laurel crown as bers to Congress, and the Republica's one member. Ex-Gov. Walker is returned from on at length to show how the future of America, concerning her prosperity and intelligence, depended upon training and cultivating the minds of all by regularly established system of education; how the South in commerce and social position before the war stood as high as any country on the globe, and that the time would come vet when her commerce would increase, and her people, through the means of proper education, would be elevated to their ormer standard of intelligence, prosperity and happiness; that all this had to be brought about by the young men, who in order to accomplish a grand success, should give strict attention to their mental culture.

Fifth and Last Gift Concert in Aid of the Public Library of Kentucky.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

The management have determined to have the drawing of the Fifth and Last Gift Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky on the 30th day of November next. We believe now that all the tickets will be sold, and that the drawing will be a full one; but whether all are sold or not, the drawing will nevertheless certainly come off on the

the drawing will nevertheless certainly come off on the day appointed.

The special object of this card is to call a meeting of the ticket-holders at Public Library Hall, on the 20th of November, to make arrangements in connection with the counting of the tags representing the numbers of tickets sold. While there is no actual necessity for the presence of ticket-holders, as under our arrangements the interests of all are equally cared for, yet, at the same time, I would greatly prefer that as many of those interested as can, would attend this meeting and see each for himself how perfectly fair and impartial the distribution must be.

Every arrangement has been made for the drawing—but little more than a month remains for the sale of the remainder of the tickets, and whatever is done must be done promptly.

BUSINESS NECESSITIES .- In these days of progress, most enterprising firms use every means of putting their names before their customers. In no way can this be more conreniently and attractively done than by using Printed Letter Headings and Bill Heads. They have come into such general use by Merchants, that one seems old fashioned who does not use them, and the custom should be generally adopted by the Country merchants.

WALKER, EVANS & COGSWELL, Charleston S. C., furnish Letter and Bill Heads of all grade, and at the most reasonable prices. Send to them for samples and prices.

By the the way, Messes. Walker, Evans

& Cooswell are getting up and selling like hot cakes, some excellent books for our Merchants. One, the Merchants' Cotton Book, for keeping correct accounts of purchases and shipments of Cotton; the other, the Merchants' Bill book, for readily knowing how the payments on their customers' notes and accounts stand. Both books are exceedingly complete, and answer the purpose exactly.

FURCHGOTT. BENEDICT & Co., Charleston, S.

C., are offering one of the largest stocks of DRY GOODS. and CARPETS in the United States. Parties in want of the same, will save from 25 to 30 per cent. by ordering from them. They are prepared to send samples on application. All retail orders over $10 will be sent free of charge to any part of the Southern States. Remit by P. O. Order, Express, or Draft drawn to order, or Goods will be sent C. O. D.

POVERTY IS BAD, but the worst kind of povgerty is of the blood; this makes a man "poor indeed," for it takes away his strength, courage and energy; but enrich the blood with its vital element, Iron, by taking the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron, and you will feel rich and "as good as anybody." Try it.
